Asmara

Asmara is the capital and most populous city of Eritrea, in the country's Central Region. It sits at an elevation of 2,325 metres (7,628 ft), making it the sixth highest capital in the world by altitude. The city is located at the tip of an escarpment that is both the northwestern edge of the Eritrean highlands and the Great Rift Valley in neighboring Ethiopia.

In 2017, the city was declared as a UNESCO World Heritage Site for its well-preserved modernist architecture. Asmara was first settled in 800 BC with a population ranging from 100 to 1000. The city was then founded in the 12th century CE after four separate villages unified to live together peacefully after long periods of conflict.

the residents of Asmara like to call themselves "deQi Asmara" to mean "the children of Asmara" or "Asmarinos", a legacy from the colonial era. They refer to each other as "mete-abiyti" .. its English equivalent might be "homies".

The most famous icon of Asmara is the St. Joseph cathedral, or simply referred as "Catedrale", located at the main "Harnet Avenue" (Independence Avenue. ) This is an area famous for small cafes, that serve mostly pastry, hot drinks: such as cappuccino and macchiato, and various fresh juices.

Asmarinos, love to take an evening stroll around Harnet Avenue.

Hence, for a break they love sipping their macchiato and cappuccino with cake. Among which simple donut being a favorite.

Apart from Harnet Avenue, other famous landmarks are: the main vegetable and grain market referred as "Shuq" simply meaning market. This is the area where many of Asmarinos pick their business skills, and learn the ups and downs of life.

Being a work area, Asmarinos working around Shuq, they usually have their lunch in small eateries which they simply call "Cafeteria" or "biet qursi" to mean a place where one can have breakfast. However these cafes do not only serve breakfast, but they are most famous for a simple dish called "Fata".

This is a simple dish of small pieces of bread soaked in an onion and tomato sauce spiced with lots of "Berbere" – Eritrean spiced red chili powder. – On demand they like to add yoghurt and ghee when it is not a Wednesday, Friday or one of the fasting seasons they call "Tsom".
