At present sustainability seems to be the hot topic of the fashion industry. COVID19 is a contributing factor to this as it has caused a major shift in consumer attitudes.

Elett is a young London based fashion stylist, who owns Elite Submission, an accessories brand that is based on a new way of shopping; monthly subscriptions. She showed us some of her work and gave us tips on how to upgrade our wardrobes while being on top of the latest fashion trends. Elett also demonstrated to us her way of being sustainable while shopping; making sure she can style one item in three ways.
